

Quick Tips: In-Person Interviews

BASIC TIPS:

- Be sure to properly elaborate when answering questions. Make your points as clear and concise as possible while fully answering the questions.
- Be yourself! Relax, smile, and let your personality come through. Practice ahead of time to try to prevent your nerves from getting the best of you.
- Be prepared. Do your research about the company ahead of time. Know the company's goals, history, philosophy, products, and more. This knowledge will give you the ability to articulately answer the recruiter's questions.
- Be enthusiastic and engaged in your answers and in the conversation at hand.
- Don't be afraid to take a moment to pause and think to properly set up your answer and put information in context. Even just 5 to 10 seconds can help you gather your thoughts, so your response can be more clear and concise.
